Backyard gardeners know all too well that there are times during the growing season when the garden is producing more zucchinis, cucumbers and tomatoes than one's family could ever eat! A great option is to donate your excess produce to a local food pantry.

Ampleharvest.org can help you find a local pantry looking for fresh produce. Wasting food is a terrible waste! Learn more at recycle.nj.gov #TooGoodToWaste
